

Registry Office weddings in Heraklion take place at the City Hall, housed in the Venetian Loggia, a historical building still adorned by its original 14th Century architectural features. Considered to be one of the finest Venetian buildings in Crete, the Loggia stands in the heart of Heraklion and offers a grand setting for your civil ceremony.

Conducted in Greek with the assistance of our Wedding Co-ordinator translating every step of the event for you, the ceremony is fairly short and the hall where it takes place can accommodate everyone invited to hear you and your spouse exchange your vows.

Another advantage is that the actual venue, as well as nearby locations in town, offer some splendid opportunities for stunning photographs that you will cherish forever in memory of your 'big day'.

Cocktail Parties & Wedding Receptions

Following your ceremony and depending on your preferences, choose to continue your celebrations back at your hotel or indeed at a local taverna in Heraklion or any other resort on the island.

We will supply you with details according to your wishes to make your day as perfect as can be and as tailor-made as you want it to be.

Of course we'll also be able to organise transportation for you and your wedding party.
