

Very nicely put together by the municipality of Peyia, this purpose-built wedding venue stands right by the waterfront in Gliko Nero Bay, an area also known for its sea caves. What adds further interest to this magical sea view setting is the fact that it is located next to the Edro III, a Sierra Leone-flagged ship that has remained stranded on the rocks since it ran aground in 2011.

The wedding gazebo that stands on a paved area can sit about 30 persons and the one-hour use allows all the time required for the Peyia Marriage Officer to conduct your special ceremony and enjoy posing for photographs afterwards.

As an extra touch, a table can also be laid out with drinks to toast the happy couple after the ceremony.

Cocktail Parties & Wedding Receptions

Unless you wish us to arrange for your wedding reception to take place at the hotel you are staying at, we can also recommend a variety of local restaurants/tavernas. Menus will be discussed with you to ensure everything suits your requirements and party size.
