

Kastri Island (well, it's more a tiny 'islet' than an 'island'), sits off the southern coast of Kos, opposite Kefalos. Rocky and rugged, it boasts the ruin of an ancient stone castle on a small hill plus a picturesque little chapel made even prettier with its blue roof and blue door. How 'more Greek' do you want your Greek to be?

A local boat takes guests across to Kastri where they await the arrival of the bride (plus one person, if required) which we will organise on a separate smaller boat.

The actual ceremony venue is set up by the small chapel and stunning sea views truly complement the area. Taking place from 17.00hrs, the ceremony is conducted by the Mayor and it is worth knowing that this is just one of a few venues on Kos where couples can officially get married without the need for a Registry Office ceremony beforehand. Excellent photo opportunities before heading back to Kefalos.

♥ SYMBOLIC CEREMONY

♥ RENEWAL OF VOWS

We could also offer you a tempting selection of beach locations on Kos for you and your guests to enjoy on your special day.

In this instance, the official signing of the documents needs to take place at the closest Registry Office to your accommodation and this can be done Monday to Friday (time will be reconfirmed). It won't take more than 10 minutes and no 'formal attire', nor 'rings' are required for this, just two witnesses to accompany you. After the visit to the Registry Office, you'll then have time to get ready properly at your accommodation before we set off to your chosen beach for a relaxed symbolic ceremony.

We have shown you here a sample selection of what can be arranged. Extra touches can be added to give the setting a personal touch and quotations will be supplied to you before you make your mind up.
